insurgent licutenant and two solwere out and going to our position. our camp was just riddled with bulle's. We went double quick about half a mile to our position west side of the camp, Back we went, and through a cross fire, but as luck and poor marksmanship would have it, wo did not get hurt so close to the ground that you could run a lawn mower over us and not hit one. Our orders were ground pretty close to keep from being hit. They were specting but no one hurt. unusually low for some reason or other. Along towards morning Hugh Kenover was stru k with a a mauser bullet in the left lung about even with the shoulder and came out near the small of the back. The doctor said at first that he could not live,. but he is much does not give a correct account of better now and the doctor thinks our dead and wounded, and I do he will pull through all right Those manser bullets are very small and do not make a very large hole. If that had been a springfield he would not have lived half an hour. They make a terrible hole, but one not half so dangerous as those brass balls the Insurgents hours He was shot above the left eye and 't took away part of his town have to walk pretty straight unconscious all the time. Shappard and Kerr were the next shot by a mauser bullet both at the same time and the same bullet. Sheppard was shot through the calf of the left leg, but did not hit the bone. Kerr was shot twice, once just between the legs then through fleshy part below the hips. Flannagan was scratched on the wrist, but not enough to cripple him. We stayed there until after dinner and then went to camp. We were under more or less fire all the time and it is a wonder we come out as lucky as we did. I think Co. M. is a ver / lucky company. While we were fighting on one side of the camp the boys on the other side, aided by two guns of the Utah battery, took two block houses and the bridge. They met a pretty heavy fire and a go d many were killed and wounded. They killed a lot of filipines and wounded a lot more that got away. The ground is just strewed with them I believe if death. The mail has just come so ed. I will not attempt to describe I will stop and read the news, as I have not the have two letters from you and three time, and you can see by the papers packages of papers. One letter I send what that was. The bullets was dated Dec. 24th and the other struck sil around me, and they even one Jan. 2. I got the crippings come so close as to light between you sent me in the letter about us coming home so soon. You have a lot of rumors there, I guess, just Dear folks at home;—I have a as we do here. No, we are not little time now and will try and started yet, and I don't think we give you a little description of our will for a good long time now, but fight. It commenced on Saturday I don't think this scrap will detain night. One of our outposts shot an us any

That night he first advance party, and we hadn't came up to our lines and our sen gone very far before they opened try halted him but he did not stop fire on us pretty lively, and we had as soon as the sentry thought he to lie down and wait for the bactery ought to, so he put a builet through to come up and tear down their his heart Two more soldiers fort. They were across a deep rejum; ed out and they got the same vine, and we would have to charge dose, and so it started. We all got down a hill and then up the other up and fell in as soon as the first side, When the battery opened up shots were fired, and by the time we started with a yell and you they began firing on the camp we ought to have seen those niggers break their necks getting out of If we had been just a little slower there. We only killed one there, we might have lost lots of men, for for by the time we got to the top of the hill they were gone. Everything was quiet then for a mile, when all of a sudden we ran into and just got placed when we were them again, and this time a larger ordered back to protect the south force. We did not use the battery this time, for we were on a level with them We fixed bayonets and started, and I guess they thought there was no use in trying to stop We took our position and lay down us, so they ran. We fought them for about three miles, all the way to the pumping station, and there they tried to stop us again, but of to stand on the defense, so we call no use; we were not to be stopped. do nothing but lay low and take The last I saw of them they were their tire. We were right out in going to the mountains as fast as an open field and had to hug the their legs could carry them. We have had a few light attacks since, Now, don't think Nebraska was the only regiment that had a fight. for every regiment around the city was shooting about as fast as th ; knew how, and everyone did their duty as well as could have been done. I will send you a paper; it not know about the other regiments We have about seven dead and twenty wounded. We have not received our boxes yet; I don't know what the trouble is. We only have two men on sick list in our company, and the wounded are get ting along nicely; never felt better but still rather a pleasant one, for use. Guy Livingstone was shot in my life. I am a little sleepy, they killed six out of the regiment, the charge and only lived a few as I have not had any sleep fer about a week. The Philippines in skull. His Brains ran out on the and if they look cross eyed they ground and I do not see how he get a hole shot through them on the lived as long as he did. He was spot. They deserve more punishment than they get for the way they murder our boys when they get a chance. It is rumored around here chance. It is rumored around here that Aguinaldo sent a message to Oti- saying it was all a mistake; he did not want to fight, and wanted to compromise. Otis sent him back this message: "Go to h—, you started it, I will finish it." It sounds just like him and I hope it is so All the Spanish people and other nations are very much sur other nations are very much sur prised at the way we whipped them. They can't understand it at all. They are all very giad, and nothing is too good for an Ameri can soldier. Well, dinner is nearly ready, so good bye. From your loving son and brother. Dear folks at home: I will write father could see our battle field he you a few lines to let you know I would say it loosed like we had am still alive. Of course you have had a pretty hard fight. Colonel heard of the battle we had with the Stotsenberg led the charge on the natives. We had a hard scrap, bridge and also on the powder lasting from 7:30 o'clock Saturday magazine, and the boys are all night until about noon Sunday, proud of their colonel now. He without stopping at all. It was a got right in the center of the firing continuous fire all the time. They line and told them to guide on him, attacked us when we were not lookand you bet they did. In the after ing for it, but we drove them clear noon we took the reservoir and had back in the mountains We hav to run the "niggers" out of there just massacred them, and their dead again. Co. M. was then ordered to are lying in piles of forty and fifty. camp guard, much to the regret of We lost quite a few men, but it is the whole company, for we wanted a wonder to me that there was not to be in the charge on the pumping more Americans killed. I feet very sorry for Hugh Kenoy er's mother, as I know she will nearly die of grief; console her as much as possible. I am sure he will recover, although he has a very serious wound. I think the worst of the long expected fight with the Filippinos is over now, for we just mowed them down like hay all around the city. I wish father could have been here and heard the pretty volley firing of Company M.

I wrote you a few lines the other pretty volley firing of Company M.

I wrote you a few lines the other day to let you know that I campout of the fight all right, so will write a little more today. The fight commenced on Saturday night, Feb 4th, and it was a continual round of fire for nineteen hours, never slacking up. The fight started at blockhouse No. 2 of the Nebraska outpost. The natives tried to growd on us and the sentry I wrote you a few lines the other Nebraska outpost. The natives tried to crowd on us and the sentry fired on them. No sooner had to fired when all around us was a continual fire. We fought bard all night and until about eight o'clock in the morning, when we commenced to drive them back. We drove them back to the water works where they have their headquarters; so the Nebraska boy;, all worn out and hungry, came back to camp for dinner; and immediately thereafter the Colorado, Tennessee and Nebraska regiments and Utah battery made an attack on the water works and captured it in about one hour. Our company was not in that, as we sufficied January 3d, 1899, by Ernest Kleeb, contestant, against H. E. Hugh Kenoyer was shot just below the left collar bone, and the bullet came out at the point of the 10th rib, so you see he had a very close call. We all thought be would die, but I was down to the hospital yesterday and he was sitting up, and is feeling good and will get along all right. If you will go to Lieut.
